

The Church Home Society is an independent non-profit corporation related to the Episcopal Church. Its objective is to provide support to young persons through a program of making financial grants to both religious and secular organizations which work with and/or for young persons, and further to provide such support in other ways as may be determined to be useful by the Society.

General Guidelines for Grant Requests

The following general guidelines for grants reflect the society's principal areas of interest:

Programs that support young persons between the ages of 9 and 25, and which seek to serve their needs

Programs that involve young persons in their planning and execution

Pilot programs, or innovative and experimental existing programs, which are consistent with other grant guidelines of the Society

Programs that, in their aim and execution, are compatible with the Christian view of life and society, which values all of creation as the work of God and seeks reconciliation and love among human beings

For this reason, the Society prefers supporting human talent rather than providing "hardware" for projects.
