

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church

74 South Common Street, Lynn, MA

Historical Storytelling Related to Race and Difference

Using a centering media piece we will explore an aspect of our personal history that provided a racial revelation allowing us to see and hear one another in beloved community so that with courage we can step forth to manifest a community centered on God's loving plan for us all.

Sunday, May 19 - 3 to 6pm

Featuring: Karen Groce-Horan & Betsy Disharoon

Karen Groce-Horan is co-founder of Courageous Conversations towards Racial Justice in the Milton, Mattapan area which is a community collaboration that has held over 40 community discussion related events since October of 2016 to work towards racial healing and reconciliation in a diverse community struggling with barriers that have divided us for generations.

Betsy Disharoon, a retired dentist, feels blessed to be at a stage in her life that allows her passions to not only surface but connect her with fellow explorers through delving into "the work".

Courageous Conversations toward Racial Justice is a powerful vehicle energized by a diverse population of real people with contagious dedication to knowing themselves in a way that will bring us all to a better understanding and coexistence.

Join us for an afternoon of activities and dialogue to open your mind

Light Refreshments – Free Admission
Appropriate for All Ages

Register: Events at St. Stephen's Memorial Episcopal Church

For more information "pamelapoppe61@gmail.com"